Illustration of the sitting Ganesha :

- The statue here described is the harbinger of auspiciousness "Lord Ganesha".
- Shri Ganesh illustrates the beginning, notably the beginning of something auspicious and positive.
- Sitting in Lalitasana on a base design like a lotus. Beneath him, his mount mouse is also seen contemplating his master with folded hands.
- With his four hands, Lord Ganesha is holding a noose, goad, his broken tusk, and his favorite sweets.

The sitting Ganesha idol:

- The God of prosperity and good health, therefore, every Indian worships at the start of any auspicious event.
- Lord Ganesha is the head of all ganas of Lord Shiva.
- Goddess Parvati created him using dirt from her body & gave life to the boy while Shiva was out.
- She posted Ganesha to guard the entrance of Kailasha while taking a bath.
- Meanwhile, Shiva returned & willing to meet Parvati, where he face to face with Ganesha who did not let him enter his abode, leading to a conflict between them. Eventually, Lord Shiva chops off Ganesha's head in anger.
- Parvati was not happy with such scenery. She presented the whole picture and requested Lord Shiva to bring his son to life.
- Lord Shiva after understanding the entire story fixed a head of an elephant upon him and this way Ganesha was born again. The rebirth of this elephant-headed boy is celebrated as Ganesha Chaturthi.
