Product Description

Lord Krishna the most loved god in Indian mythology, sometimes for his bravery and sometimes for his notorious acts, sometimes for his innocent tricks and sometimes for his playful knack, lord Krishna was always loved by the people of Vrindavan. Even if he would steal curd from houses or break curd pots of the maidens, no one could stay angry on him for long. In this scroll the lovable lord is presented with maidens depicting the pure form of love which is now endangered. Along with it the other incarnations of lord Vishnu are depicted in beautifully. This scroll is a must to have not just for decoration but also to spread the message of love.
